Dear Commissioners,

The up coming meeting for an animal control officer, is quite hilarious. Are we talking about a lay person, walking about with a badge and a gun, with no formal police training or powers? This really needs to be laughed out the door!

I attended the meeting with the where the planning department asked you for direction on the planning department. Carlotta mentioned that there was money for a code enforcement Officer and office space.

The Sheriffs Office needs more Officers also. Yet they are unable to hire an Officer.

You are putting Doggie and Code enforcement ahead of Law enforcement!

Only in Ravalli County. It appears that you are hell bent on keeping Ravalli County the laughing stock of the great State of Montana.

Thank You.
